Allies in Saints' World is one of three remaining Shinobi, a powerful group of shinobi and ninja that have taken up residence in the old city of Maidens' Prison, a geographical area surrounded by wild grass and located at the outskirts of the cut through town. For its troubles, the group has been hiding itself from other ninja due to its members not being registered under any ninjutsu school. During their adventures, Sunahara and his group will come across a world of weird and wonderful paranormal events. Ranmaru, who was on a solo mission to find a lost hagaromo as per Kyoto Law's rules, ends up to reunite with Sunahara after he and Garon reach the mysterious crater that can close up. He meets several strangers, such as a ghost of a young girl named Tokiko Shionon (Tokiko) who doesn't seem to see him as a threat, a solitary young boy named Tenma who was separated from his parents, a nun-like Caucasian woman named Marianne, and a man named Jumonji who can use numerous forms. Old Debts Haruno (Founder) is the founder of the Saints', who came from a country called France in the 14th century, and is evidently a member of the Shinobi. He resembles a turtle, with a tail that is longer than his shin. He is close friends with Uno, and has strength comparable to him, as demonstrated by having to be distracted by Uno before being destroyed by his follower, Allen's Water Force. He would meet a tragic end that left him a powerful genin. Despite this, he would decide to return as a powerful genin, despite the fact that he was an amnesiac. Primary Members

There are legends of monsters in the night, and ancient ruins of unimaginable dimensions. One day we may even awaken to the stars. The stars may very well herald the end of civilization as we know it... The only thing standing in their way are the local residents of the Dreamlands who wish the Dreamlands back in the darkness.
